

15th Summer school of pathology in Bordeaux 2025 report.

Greetings for everyone who will read that report.

First of all, I would like to thank you all people who organized that event and for support pathologists not only from Ukraine but from all around the world, what summer school in Bordeaux has proved

Very grateful for opportunity to be present there and for traveling grant from Totovic Foundation.

Program of summer school was perfect organized. To present all those interesting and useful topics within few days - incredible. And all topics were done with a lot of examples and visualization.

Material from the school fulfill my folder of learning program and of course my knowledge.

All presented topics was useful. Information from them I use in my work and it gives a lot of answer on questions that often occur during making diagnostic and reporting. I was pleasantly surprised when I saw list of topics for the school, because in the previous report from 14th summer school I wrote that will be nice to get some topics about inflammatory disease of digestive tract. And what I see - "Rupert Langer – Differential diagnoses of Colitis". Special thanks to this. Practical guide of gynecological pathology, uropathology and breast pathology from Sabrina Croce, Ashish Chandra and Gaetan McGrogan - the biggest part of questions what I had, were explained very clear with a lot of examples. I'm a little embarrassed to admit it, but lung pathology still a part that I should learn a lot of, that's why presentation of Sabina Berezowska was very interesting and useful. And view of Philipp Ströbel about Digital Pathology give us a goal to improve methods of diagnostic. Of course it depends more not from doctors but from investors, however we, as pathologists, will do best from our part.

Few words about not study time and activities. It was a pleasure to spend time with such interesting and intelligent people. Historical raid around Bordeaux and visiting place where wine is making was very interesting and informative as well.

Hope I can continue my personal professional growth on next summer school of pathology.

Very appreciated for your big work and support. With all respect and best regards –

Dr. Bodan Bentsarovskyy.
