Welcome message

It is with great excitement and immense pleasure that I welcome you to the first French - German Joint Meeting, "Pathology à la Carte," here in the beautiful city of Bordeaux.

This inaugural edition marks an important and historic moment of collaboration between the French and German Divisions of the IAP, and we are truly proud to launch this joint initiative together.
Seeing our two divisions united around science, education, and friendship is both inspiring and promising for the future.
We have prepared a stimulating scientific program featuring outstanding experts and cutting-edge topics across a wide spectrum of pathology.
Beyond the lectures, we look forward to sharing memorable social moments — from our visit to Château Carbonnieux to the city tour and our convivial dinners — all designed to encourage exchange in a warm and collegial atmosphere.
May this meeting spark new collaborations, innovative ideas, and lasting professional friendships.
I wish you an inspiring, dynamic, and unforgettable experience in Bordeaux.

Warmest regards,

Prof. Cécile Badoual, President French Division
